

Beef Cattle Edition Sunday

The Golden Circle's extensive beef cattle industry will be the subject of a special section in Sunday's Daily Sun. Stories and information regarding cattle, markets, related businesses and the industry itself will be included, as will stories on many of the area's leading beef cattle ranchers.

Several special stories of particular interest to cattlemen and businesses related to the industry, all of them provided by the County Extension Service, will be included in the edition.

Homecoming In Fairfield

FAIRFIELD—Eagles and Eaglettes, past and present, will be getting a head start of their 1971 Homecoming weekend this evening with a pep rally and bonfire at Eagle Field.

Friday's festivities continue with still another pep rally and parade of classes through the downtown area in the afternoon, leading up to the 8 p.m. confrontation on the football field between the Eagles and the Teague Tigers. Special halftime ceremonies will include the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Football Sweetheart and Pep Club Princess.

A dance, sponsored by the Young Homemakers, will follow the game. Several class reunions are also scheduled for the weekend.

Students Get Monday Off

Students and teachers will have a reprieve from school Monday when teachers attend the annual district convention of the Texas State Teachers Association in the Heart O' Texas Coliseum in Waco.

The representatives of McLennan, Falls, Limestone, Freestone, Navarro, Hill, Bosque, Hamilton, Mills, Lampasas, Coryell and Bell counties will hear Dr. Charles W. Jarvis deliver the main address.

Jarvis is recognized as one of the leading humorists in Texas. Born and reared in Waxahachie, he has changed careers several times and averages over 140 addresses a year over the United States.

Mrs. Eva Bates, counselor at Gatesville High School, president, will preside over the general meeting.

Corsicana officials and teachers will then attend sectional meetings and luncheons to get ideas that can be used on a local level.

Mexia Man Dies In Plane Crash

MEXIA, Tex. (AP) — A brother, unable to help, saw Ralph Curry, 21, of Mexia die in the fiery crash of a crop-dusting airplane Sunday.

The craft pulled up sharply, banked to the right and plunged to earth two miles south of the Donie community.

James Curry, the brother, was working with Ralph to spray a field. Their father, Dave Curry, manages the airport here and runs a flying service.

747 Hijacked

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A hijacked Boeing 747 jumbo jet sat on the ground at Havana's Jose Marti Airport today and federal authorities said it probably would not be allowed to leave until Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin touched down in the Cuban capital.

"This is just my opinion," said a spokesman for the Federal Aviation Administration, "but I bet Castro would like to have a 747 on the runway when Kosygin gets there."

Area Youths Win State Fair Awards

Three area youths took home ribbons from the Junior livestock show at the State Fair of Texas.

Jack Coggins, 16, of Corsicana, took one home for the reserve shorthorn and Buddy Tufts, 17, of Hillsboro took home a ribbon for the reserve champion in the polled hereford category.

Steve Stewart, of Kaufman County, took home a larger ribbon for the champion Santa Gerdudis.

The livestock show was just one of the many attractions found at the fair during its last week in Dallas.

Fall Back, Spring Ahead

It's the time of year again where, in theory at least, the areas under the dual time system will gain an extra hour in the day. Pretty Miss Tulula Ware of Navarro Junior College reminds local residents to turn their clocks back one hour before retiring on Saturday. The time system will return to standard time from daylight saving time early Sunday morning. An easy way to remember the time change is "Fall back, Spring ahead." (Sun Photo by Rob Meckel.)

Douglas Urges Unity Of County Officials

By ROB MECKEL
Staff Writer

Navarro County Judge Kenneth Douglas, in a prepared speech to be presented tonight at the installation of officers ceremony at the annual County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas convention in San Antonio, urged members to work more closely with legislative officials to improve county government.

In his speech, Douglas says, "I firmly believe that county government is the one government in Texas that is available to the electorate. It should be one with its doors open to help the people solve those problems that need to be solved. Many are not doing the job and this is one of the big reasons why a few people holler so much about changing our present form. Many of us hide behind the law and fail to carry out the responsibilities that we now have."

Douglas urged the county officials to join together in protecting the interest of the electorate in good county government.

The Navarro County Judge reminded the officials that during the last session of the legislature, the association worked for the passage of two bills that would substantially increase the amount of money that the counties would share in from revenues collected by the State. One bill was from the county to keep a greater share of the automobile registration fee. This bill did not pass. The other bill, designed to take the right-of-way buying on state highways away from the counties and let the State buy and pay for it all, also failed to pass. He said with the help of county officials, these bills could have passed.

"Our public relations with the Legislature is not as good as it should be," Douglas said. "We fall down on the job by not exercising the influence we have. Why?"

Douglas said now is the time for county officials to talk to their Legislators; now that he needs their vote and support more than the county officials need his.

"Why not work out some kind of understanding so that each of you is turned in the same direction?" he said.

In his closing remarks, Douglas told the association members it was a pleasure to serve the past year as their president.

The new president of the association is Ector County Commissioner Kellus Turner. The first vice-president this year is Nueces County Judge Robert "Bob" Barnes.

Six Local Teams Play

Six local grid teams are due for Thursday action, with two games at home and four on the road.

Both the Corsicana junior varsity and ninth grade teams play at Tiger Field.

In the opener here the unbeaten ninth grade meets LaVega for its seventh in a row. They started the season with a win over LaVega. That game is due to start at 5 p.m.

The JV's hope to snap a game loss string, losing last week to Killeen. They stand 2-3 for the year. Game time is 7 p.m.

Collins Middle School will play two games with the 7th grade in Palestine and the 8th graders in Cleburne.

Drane takes its teams to Waxahachie for two. The first game there is set for 6 p.m.

DAILY act·SUN

By BETTY JEAN CLAY

Q: Since Halloween falls on Sunday this year, what day are the kids going to "trick or treat", Saturday or Sunday? (Many Inquirers)

A: Who knows! Just be prepared. Whether children go out trick or treating whatever night Halloween happens to fall on, it is, and always has been, at the discretion of their parents. Presumably that will be the criteria this year. There is no organized effort that we are aware of in Corsicana to say "let's observe Halloween Saturday because some parents don't want their children going out trick or treating on a church night."

That sentiment may be prevalent with some, but others are indifferent. Some households will have a supply of goodies on hand whether the "Ghosts and goblins" come Saturday night or Sunday night, to be sure, because they are entering into the spirit (no pun intended) to make this an exciting occasion for the small fry. Others will do just what they have always done—(1) Leave home; (2) Turn off all lights in the front of the house and refuse to answer the doorbell; (3) Play the kids game of distributing candy, gum, cookies, etc., until their supply is exhausted, then darkening the house and no longer answering door chimes or ghostly knocks.

Just to be on the safe side, the Corsicana Police Department will call in Police Reserves both nights—Saturday and Sunday—to patrol as protection to the youngsters in anticipation some will go out one, or both nights. Motorists are urged to be alert both nights. Oh yes, the Palace Theatre has scheduled its Halloween "spook show" on Saturday night.

Drug Raids For Naught

Corsicana police and Sheriff's department carried out raids on four places Wednesday night in search of marijuana and narcotics, but came up practically empty handed according to Chief of Police Don Massey.

No marijuana or narcotics paraphernalia were found, and no arrests made on any drug charges, Chief Massey said Thursday in revealing the raids carried out simultaneously by Sheriff's Deputy Ronald Moses, regular police and reserve officers.

One Houston man was arrested near where one raid was conducted, but this was because he was found in possession of a pistol. Chief Massey said he expected to file charges of carrying a prohibited weapon Thursday afternoon with the District Attorney's office.

Police and the Sheriff's office had been working together for the past three weeks gathering information on suspected narcotics pushers, especially pushers of marijuana. Based on information gathered from informers and sources officers are not at liberty to divulge at this time, plans were made for coordinating a series of raids on scattered locations about the city. Search warrants were obtained, and the raids were carried out between 8 and 9 p.m.

"Our information wasn't too good, or else they were expecting us," Chief Massey said of the raids, adding, "or else if it were there it (marijuana) was hidden so good we didn't find it."

Kerens Man Shot Thursday

KERENS—A 76-year-old man suffered a gunshot wound in the chest late Thursday afternoon in the Rural Shade community near Kerens following an apparent domestic argument.

The shooting victim, Whittie Russell of Route 3 Kerens is listed in "satisfactory" condition at Navarro County Memorial Hospital today.

Judge French said James O. Dunn, 29, of Route 2, Kerens was charged with assault with intent to murder and bond was set at $1,000. Dunn was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Harry Rogers.

A small calibre pistol was allegedly used in the shooting, according to French.

Arthur J. Keeney Named New Publisher of Sun

Arthur J. Keeney, currently vice-president of the Texas Daily Newspaper Association based in Houston, today was named President and Publisher of the Corsicana Daily Sun.

The appointment was announced by Houston H. Harte, chairman of the board of Harte-Hanks Newspapers, Inc., San Antonio.

Keeney, a native of Akron, Ohio, has lived in Houston for 11 years where he served as promotion and creative director of The Houston Post and also held management positions with the Houston Astros baseball organization and the city's Alley Theatre before joining T.D.N.A. in 1969.

The new Sun Publisher was graduated from Northwestern University, Medill School of Journalism, Evanston, Ill., in 1950 where he received his degree in journalism. In 1951 he was awarded a Master of Science in Journalism by Medill.

He held newspaper management positions in Galesburg, Illinois; Canton, Ohio and Evansville, Indiana before moving to Texas in 1960.

Keeney is married to the former Gioia Passarelli of Muskegon, Michigan. The Keeney's have four children: Arthur Louis, 19; Kevin, 16; Megan, 15 and Michael, 12. They will join him in Corsicana in a few weeks.

Keeney has been active in community affairs both in Houston and in other communities where he has served. During his eight years with Brush-Moore Newspapers in Canton, Ohio, the new Sun publisher served a term as president of the local Chamber of Commerce and that area's Regional Planning Authority.

While in Houston Keeney has been active in a number of civic and church organizations and is currently president of the Parish Council of Holy Ghost Catholic Church, a member of the Chamber of Commerce and is involved with youth activities.

Mrs. Keeney is active in several Houston organizations and is currently president of the St. Joseph Hospital Guild and serves that city's Dominican College as planning and publicity chief.

Keeney spent several days in Corsicana during the past three weeks and says he is impressed with the city and the energy he sees here. Asked to comment on the newspaper's role, the Sun publisher said, "I feel the daily newspaper must be among the leaders in the community it serves or it is just not doing its job."

On the personal side, Keeney told the Sun staff in a meeting this morning that he intends to become active in the Corsicana community personally just as soon as he is settled.

Disaster Preparedness School Planned by City

Plans were initiated here Tuesday to set up a school in November for city governmental personnel and representatives of public utilities to train for disaster preparedness.

Meeting with city personnel and utility representatives Tuesday at City Hall was Clark Titus of Austin, a training specialist with the division of defense and disaster relief of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Titus travels all over the state assisting cities in organizing a disaster preparedness plan of action, or counseling with communities on updating their organizational structure where preparedness plans already are in effect.

At the conference Tuesday, he proposed setting up the six day Corsicana school to orient personnel to be held over a two-week period, beginning Nov. 23 and extending through Nov. 25, and returning to Corsicana on Nov. 30 for the final three days of the school. Specific details are to be worked out later.

The training school is to be concluded with a "simulated disaster" to ascertain how effective the training has been and to assure those with specific assignments in time of disaster know when and where they are supposed to be.

Titus began the compilation on his first visit here Tuesday of names of department heads of municipal government, address, phone numbers, and the equipment at their command which would be brought into play and gathering this same type information from utilities.

Chamber Hearing Thursday Nominees On Zone Requests Due Friday

Members of the Chamber of Commerce have until 10 a.m. Friday to submit candidates for consideration as director nominees to fill seven places on the board.

Suggestions should be made to any of the nominating committee, Chairman Gerald York H.O. Olsen, joined by Tom Bunch announced at an initial meeting of the candidate selection 14 acres of land in Block 1096, for committee Tuesday afternoon at which they seek a change in the Chamber. At that session classification from Residential 2 some 17 or 18 names were "thrown in the hopper" by committee members and Bunch and associates of a evaluations begun.

Additional prospective nominees from the general membership should be directed by the Friday deadline to Dr., Beverly Dr., Duane Cooper, George Kolosta, C. L. Redus, Ed Mueller or Grant Meyers.

Once nominees have proposed, the committee will contact them in advance to ascertain if they will permit their names to go on a mail ballot that will be sent out to the entire Chamber membership.

This ballot will contain a slate of seven nominees selected by the nominating committee, but will also afford Chamber affiliates to write in candidates of their choice in lieu of those listed on the ballot.

Not eligible are those directors currently serving an elected term until they have been off a year.

Four applications for zoning changes are to be heard at 2 p.m. Thursday by the City Planning and Zoning Commission which will hold public hearings at the Chamber of Commerce conference room.

One involves a re-hearing on a previously tabled application of H.O. Olsen, joined by Tom Bunch as holder of an option to purchase 14 acres of land in Block 1096, for committee Tuesday afternoon at which they seek a change in the Chamber. At that session classification from Residential 2 some 17 or 18 names were "thrown in the hopper" by committee members and Bunch and associates of a evaluations begun.

The acreage is surrounded by single family dwellings on all side bordered by Oaklawn Dr., Bowie Dr., Beverly Dr. and Beverly Drive East.

The Housing Authority of the City of Corsicana, through Manager Ed Blackburn seeks rezoning of acreage located east of Navarro Dr. at its intersection with Max Ave. from Residential 3 to Multiple Family 1 district to build 40 additional low rent housing units. The tract of 11 acres is in Block 1014, and in relatively close proximity to Northwest Apartments where the housing authority currently is building 110 new housing units primarily for senior citizen occupancy.

Two other applications seek specific use permits. G. B. Lassister seeks a mobile home specific use permit for 702 W. 2nd Ave. in a General Retail district. This property is Lot F, Block 394.

A former City Commissioner, Robert M. Scott II, seeks rezoning of three lots on E. 8th Ave. at S. 2nd St. from the present Residential 4 classification to Office classification and a specific use permit to build a mortuary on the property. Involved in the application are Lots 8, 9 and 10 of Block 168, H&TC addition.

Purdon Native Resigns As Dean of Law School

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The dean of the Temple University Law School announced his resignation late Thursday, within hours after student leaders called for his ouster in a meeting with the university president.

Ralph Norvell, dean of the law school since 1965, made the announcement to the law faculty. The resignation was accepted by President Paul R. Anderson, who had met earlier with 14 students over grievances with a disciplinary code, curriculum and administration.

After the meeting, some 200 students convened in the Temple gymnasium to hear Harold Datz, president of the student bar, attack Norvell as "a rare man capable of alienating 300 new students in a month and a half."

"No change can come to the law school until Dean Ralph Norvell is removed from office," Datz said.

Blacks and Puerto Ricans have been picketing the law school for several days to protest the school's minority admission policies.

Dr. Marvin Wachman, vice president for academic affairs at Temple, said a search committee would be named to find a new dean.

Northside's Ruth Class Begins Year

The Ruth Sunday School Class of Northside Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Gilbert Stubbs for the first meeting of the new year.

Mrs. Frances Rogers, outreach leader, presided, and the opening prayer was led by Mrs. Billy McNabb. Ten members, including associates, attended.

Reports were given by the members, and new plans were discussed for the class under the leadership of the class teacher, Mrs. Banks Lyons.

Additional officers were selected, and meeting dates were chosen by the group. The third Thursday evening of each month will be the regular meeting time. The November and December meetings, however, were planned as departmental socials with dates to be announced.

Following the business session, Mrs. Eura Elmore presented an inspiring devotion based on I Corinthians 13, followed by a closing prayer by Mrs. Jeff Ivy.

Pvt. Billy Gilliam who is stationed at Ft. Ord, California, jetted in to Dallas and on to Corsicana to see his parents, Babs and Gill Gilliam, and fiancée Jane Beauboet over the weekend and to celebrate his birthday today.

For the past ten years Reverend Eugene Wood, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church here, his father, Dr. B.O. Wood, son Jim Wood, and Oliver and Watson Wood have been trying to plan a fishing trip together. This past week their dream became a reality.

They all attended Rotary Club joined by their good friend, "Cooter" Flanagan of San Angelo who owns a Piper Cherokee 6-Place Air Plane. After the meeting they all flew to Biloxi, Mississippi where they had reservations on a 60-foot boat complete with Captain, deck hands, fishing gear etc., which took them out some seventy miles into the gulf near some oil rigs. Fishing in thirty-five to forty feet of water around the rigs they caught two hundred and sixty pounds of red snapper, the largest weighing twenty-three pounds, two ling and various other species. Spending the night on the boat they fished inside the Sound where gas flares burn twenty-four hours a day. Lady Luck stayed with them as they hauled in ample Bonita, Spanish Mackerel and Blue Fish. Waiting surely paid off for these six people.

While Reverend Wood was telling me about their wonderful fishing trip he mentioned another newsworthy item that he was President of the Corsicana Rotary Club; Oliver Wood is Past President of the Monahans Rotary; "Cooter" Flanagan is Past President of the Monahans Rotary; and Watson Wood, the Reverend's uncle, is District Governor nominee for his Rotary District in South Mississippi.

I asked, "Any more news?" "As a matter of fact I do. The other day Gene Bullard (YMCA) stopped by my office and said, "I want to tell you what I just saw and then I'm leaving. I just saw a skunk go underneath the church."

After this amazing statement Gene took off. Marvin Wallace, head of the House and Grounds Committee, got a crew together and dug in after, she, him or them. No luck. As of this writing they haven't been successful in getting them out. Everyone is getting nervous, especially organist, Mrs. C.E. Beene. It seems the nest is right under the building where the nice new pipe organ stands.

Reverend Wood said that during his many years of ministry in the church he had often heard the phrase or old saying THERE COULD BE HYPOCRITES in the church but never had he been expected to be confronted with a situation like SKUNKS UNDER THE CHURCH. SMILE. But you do recall the Biblical quote BE PREPARED?????

May I add it was indeed a pleasure to talk with you and if in the future I need any column material I shall indeed call on you.

Happy Retirement to R.L. "Potsy" Butler, Mobile Pipe Line Co. I recall that it hadn't been for Potsy and his wife, Betty, I would have missed many football games from Gray-Y through High School. They always called and offered the WIDDER a ride. We were even together in 1963 in Victoria when we won the State Championship over Par San Juan.

Dear Aunt Louise, "Well, what do you know it's autumn again and time for our annual Kitchen Tour. Last year we had a great success with the project and many who came along told me that they read about it in your column. So I will tell you a bit about it. The date is October 28th from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. Tickets are $1.00 and can be purchased at the door of any of the homes to be shown. We have four charming kitchens belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Danny Nickolson, Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Calome, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Langford. Each of the kitchens has its own brand of charm and reflects the personality of the owners.

One ticket entitles one to see all four houses. There will be Christmas gifts for sale which are from the gift shop of the hospital.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Memorial Hospital is sponsoring the event and the proceeds will go to buy a monography machine that detects breast cancer. We are very excited about this project and hope to generate interest in it as a very worthwhile cause.

Best personal regards to you and your family. "Fondly, Elaine Mayfield.

Thank you for writing and especially for going into detail about your project. Last year I received a couple letters from towns in the Golden Circle Area asking for details as they had hoped to use the Kitchen Tour as a means for raising money for some of their project. Anytime I can be of service just write or call. You are on my favorite people list, you know. Smile.

Mike and Sue are supposed to be in this weekend to visit yours truly and Sue's parents, the Garland Grays of Roane and other relatives.

Surely you know by now that this column is for YOU! When you have any news, a fish story, bright saying of a child, a recipe, see a funny sign, hear a funny tale, just any old odd or end, send it in. We'd love to hear from all of you.

Scott was elevated to the Dean's position from his former duty as Registrar and Dean of Men. The announcement was made Friday October 5th following a meeting of the College Board of Regents.

Scott is a native of Fairfield and his wife, Shirley, is from Groesbeck. Scott graduated from high school at Fairfield in 1951 and from Sam Houston State University in 1955. He later received his masters degree from Sam Houston.

Mr. Scott began his teaching career at Groesbeck where he taught math and was a coach. Later he taught at Eldorado High School and then went to Cisco Junior College as assistant football coach and math teacher. He was made Registrar and Dean of Men in 1965.

He is married to the former Shirley Wilson of Groesbeck and they have three daughters, Carol Ann, 14, Sue Ellen, 5, and Kay Lynn, 3. They reside in the College apartments on CJC Hill.

TEA To Study Bowie, CHS Programs

Bowie Elementary and Corsicana High School have been selected as two of 75 nominees to be a part of the Demonstration Schools in Individualized Instruction Network.

A team from the Texas Education Association will visit both schools and study their programs, especially for individualized programs.

The language arts program at Bowie will be a strong point, says Tommy Wardell, principal, but other areas will also be observed.

At CHS the Quest program and the new non-graded language arts and communications laboratory will be examined.

The nominations are from about 114, and the field will be narrowed to "about 30" to establish a demonstration network.

Burglars Hit Dairy Mart

Burglars hit the Dairy Mart, 1101 N. 13th St., overnight looting the cigarette vending machine of an undetermined amount of money.

Owner Hylan Davis couldn't miss anything else.

Police Capt. Fred Gray investigated the burglary early Tuesday after it was discovered that entry had been made by forcing open a drive-up service window.

Two NJC dormitory roommates, David Hendryx of Palmer and Homer Linecum of Houston notified police late Monday they returned to the campus after being gone for the weekend to discover their dorm room had been burglarized. They reported as missing AM-FM Stereo radio, a pocket size transistor radio and about $15 worth of men's colognes and shaving lotions.

Ellis-Navarro Retired Federal Employees To Meet

The Ellis-Navarro Counties chapter of the Retired Federal Employees is scheduled to meet at 11:30 a.m. Monday in the Cactus Room of the Navarro Hotel, according to Corsicana Postmaster Bill Galloway.

W. F. Omstead of Ennis is president and W. C. Bynum of Waxahachie is vice-president of the 50-member organization.

All retired federal employees and their wives or husbands, or survivors of deceased employees and employees eligible for retirement may join the organization, according to Galloway.

Music at the meeting will be furnished by the music department at Navarro Junior College.

UF Campaign Drive Has Potential Of Reaching Goals Plus Some Extra

By BETTY JEAN CLAY Staff Writer

Through five weeks of the United Fund campaign, the drive has produced $63,356.43 and has the potential of oversubscribing the goal, a check up coffee of campaign leaders was told Tuesday by Campaign Co-Chairman Pete Breighaupt.

Target date for closing out the drive on a successful note with the goal of $103,222 in hand still is Nov. 15.

"It's looking real good," Chairman Breighaupt advised, but added: "That doesn't mean we can quit working. It means we have to keep going—if you slow down when things are going good, then they begin to turn sour."

A large number of prospect cards still are out in the hands of workers from whom no reports have been received. Another estimated 120 prospect cards still have not been picked up by campaign task force members who will call on the individuals and firms.

Breighaupt was pleased to report that everywhere he and co-chairman Ronnie Willis showed the UF's new film strip program this year there had been an increase in giving by the employee group or other groups which saw this presentation.

"If everything comes in and we get all the cards worked and in we will get $105,684, but we are going to have even more than

UF Campaign Drive Has Potential Of Reaching Goals Plus Some Extra

By BETTY JEAN CLAY Staff Writer

Through five weeks of the United Fund campaign, the drive has produced $63,356.43 and has the potential of oversubscribing the goal, a check up coffee of campaign leaders was told Tuesday by Campaign Co-Chairman Pete Breighaupt.

Target date for closing out the drive on a successful note with the goal of $103,222 in hand still is Nov. 15.

"It's looking real good," Chairman Breighaupt advised, but added: "That doesn't mean we can quit working. It means we have to keep going—if you slow down when things are going good, then they begin to turn sour."

Chamber Preparing Corporation Charter

An application is being prepared seeking a state charter for the proposed non-profit Community Development Corporation of Corsicana.

The Chamber of Commerce has undertaken the formation of this corporation designed to assist area residents in obtaining low cost housing.

All five members were able to meet Wednesday to further efforts by the special committee to draft the application and refine the articles of incorporation patterned after that of Corpus Christi. The steering committee is comprised of Charles Hooser, chairman; Grant Meyers, Albert Sanders, Don Bowen and Hal Bookout, attorney who is drawing up the legal instruments necessary to achieve incorporation. Bowen, Bookout and Sanders were absent from an initial meeting when the name was chosen, and decision made to pattern Corsicana's organization after Corpus Christi's. Tuesday's conference provided opportunity for them to be brought up to date on organizing efforts and for the entire committee to set itself to the prerequisite of proposing nine incorporating directors before the application can be filed in Austin.

Once the panel has obtained commitments from nine directors who must be specified in the charter application, it can be reduced to its final form by Bookout and submitted.

Memory Course Scheduled At Navarro Junior College

Beginning on Wednesday, November 3, at 7:00 p.m., a memory course entitled "Indexing the Mind" will be taught through the community service program at Navarro Junior College. All class sessions will be held in the Technical Arts Auditorium. The course is designed to assist persons in remembering names, remembering jokes, recalling appointments, recalling numbers and other data as needed, making sales presentations, giving a talk or speech without notes, and in understanding memory techniques.

The course will be taught by Harvey Drake, an ex-Navy pilot who was a successful life insurance executive until bitten by the memory bug. He became so fascinated with the study of memory and aids to memory (Mnemonics) that he now spends all of his time in its pursuit.

Harvey is very much in demand as a speaker because of his phenomenally trained memory. He is able to remember a list of over one hundred dissassociated items given to him at random. He can remember all the people he meets at any type of gathering. Would you believe that you can name all the cards in a well shuffled deck of playing cards and he can repeat them back to you in the exact order that you gave them to him. In fact he can give them to you backwards if you want him to. These are only a few of the things he has trained himself to do; yet he, like most of us, is a person of normal intelligence and capabilities.

Drake has appeared before almost every type of group—church, legal, civic, fraternal, business, PTA and university, to mention some of them.

You really can't appreciate what he does until you try to do it along with him.

This course will be conducted for four Wednesday nights beginning on November 3 and ending on December 1. The tuition will be $15.00 per person or $25.00 per family couple. A memory textbook will be furnished.

For further information call Larry L. Reed, Dean of Technical Arts, Navarro Junior College at 874-6501.

Mildred YHT Meets In Armistead Home

The Mildred Chapter of Young Homemakers of Texas met started the year by attending the Monday evening in the home of Mrs. R. A. Armistead, who is a former teacher of many of the Light Building.

Mrs. Sammy Thomas presided for a short business meeting during which members were reminded that the deadline for payment of dues is Nov. 1.

It was announced that the state meeting of Young Homemakers of Texas will be Jan. 21-22 in San Antonio. The 10th anniversary of the festival session will have its headquarters in the St. Anthony Hotel.

The program was turned over to Mrs. Armistead who demonstrated her hobby of making neckties. She related several interesting stories with regard to the ties she has created and showed the members a number of things she has enjoyed making for her home.

Members discussed their project for the month, the Mildred PTA carnival in which all participated. Mrs. Max Rash was recipient of the courtesy gift.

A feature of the meeting was the discussion of the group's observance of Young Linda Dunn.

Burglary Suspect Arrested, Charged

Jerral Allen Swanson, 18, was arrested by Corsicana police Sunday and charged with two counts of burglary in connection with the weekend break-in at the Corsicana Bowl, bowling alley, 3100 W. 7th Ave.

Police Capt. Fred Gray, who with Detective Ted Warren investigated the burglary where a cigarette machine was looted of its money, said Swanson was charged before Peace Justice W. H. Tipton with night time burglary of a business and with burglary of a coin-operated machine. Bond was set at $1,500 on each charge.

Police said Swanson remained

Management division, $6,195 of its $13,090.25 goal; General Employees division, $994 of its $2,118.05 goal; Public-Civic division, $6,497.65 of its $7,330.54 goal; Residential division, $3,140.64 raised, oversubscribing a goal of $2,118.05; County division, $32 of a $2,118.05 goal; Estates division, $12,300 in out of $20,420.79 goal.

An example of what he meant was related by Mrs. Essie McElwrath, executive director. "We had one woman who worked at a sandwich shop. No one had ever contacted her before. She gave $10. Everyone wants to be included, so this just shows some have never been contacted before and asked to give, or been given the opportunity to contribute."

The leaders were advised from a posted bulletin board and by direct reference from Chairman Breighaupt of the "standing" through last Friday of the various divisions in relation to money raised against assigned goal quotas.

The breakdown reflected: Gold Card, $14,495.80 of its goal of $18,849.96 raised; Chapter Plan division, $19,701.34 of its $37,176.31 goal raised; General

Management division, $6,195 of its $13,090.25 goal; General Employees division, $994 of its $2,118.05 goal; Public-Civic division, $6,497.65 of its $7,330.54 goal; Residential division, $3,140.64 raised, oversubscribing a goal of $2,118.05; County division, $32 of a $2,118.05 goal; Estates division, $12,300 in out of $20,420.79 goal.

In an effort to keep the momentum going, donor cards were selected by workers and leaders to bridge the gap where some other members had been unable to fulfill a commitment to handle solicitations.

Breighaupt re-emphasized that he will have to terminate his active leadership as of Nov. 15 and if the task isn't completed then, it will fall on the shoulders of UF President Jim Stephenson and his campaign co-chairman Willis.

"The longer it (drive) goes, the harder it is to collect the money, let's get after it now and finish the job," Breighaupt challenged.

Youth Appreciation Week Set Nov. 8-11

Nov. 8-11 has been set as National Youth Appreciation Week sponsored locally by the city's Optimist Club.

An outstanding young man and outstanding young woman will be honored by the group at a dinner which is still in the planning stages, said Rev. Dennis Smart, committee chairman.

Nominations for the honor will come for service organizations, church groups, schools or individuals. They will be made based on the youth's service and activities in the community.

"So many youths who are in trouble get publicity and this is to give credit to those who work hard and give services to others."

Last year the awards went to Bruce Mertz and Jane Wilson.

Injuries Minor In Accidents

Three persons were treated in emergency at Memorial Hospital for apparent minor injuries from accidents; a fourth motorist came to emergency following a one-car accident near the Trinity River bridge, but left without seeing a doctor.

John Riley Butler, Apt. 229 Southpark Gardens Apartments, came to the emergency room Saturday at 7:45 a.m. complaining of a headache and possible glass in his eyes from a one-car mishap near the river. He left without seeing a doctor, however, the hospital reported.

Peggy June Scott, 18, 1812 W. 2nd Ave., driver, and Richard Daniel Scott, 55, same address, passenger, were treated Saturday at 7:45 p.m. following an accident on W. 7th Ave. at S. 32nd St. Miss Scott was treated for a headache and nervousness; he was treated for pain of the neck and shoulders.

Investigating Police Officer Leroy Crocker reported their car was involved in an accident with a pickup truck driven by Darrell A. Capahart of Corsicana.

Virgie L. Watkins, Rt. 2, was treated Saturday at 11:15 a.m. for neck pains following an accident on W. 7th Ave. near the Golden Circle Shopping Center. She notified police from the emergency room she had been involved in a mishap with a car driven by Dwayne Farmer, 1556½ W. 5th Ave.

PTK Sponsoring Benefit Dance

Phi Theta Kappa, honor society of Navarro Junior College, is hosting a dance Tuesday to raise funds for the Meewan fund.

Providing entertainment will be Darius, from 8:10-3 p.m. in the Student Union Building.

The fund was established to help Miss Meewan Pantasoup, student from Bankok, Thailand, who was injured on campus Sept. 27 when a car backed over her.

Expenses were thought to be about $700; however an infected kidney forced the student to remain in the hospital for an extended time. Expenses are now expected to be about $1200.

The fund is now pushing the $500 mark.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Hearty Mini Sandwiches

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Hearty, bite-sized sandwiches with loads of flavor are just right for the hostess with children running in and out of the house. With Halloween on the horizon Party Petit Fours and Apple Paced Sandwiches serve a dual purpose—for bridge club nibbling and after-trick-or-treating visits of young in the neighborhood. These can be made ahead and kept refrigerated until time to serve.

Bite-sized Party Petit Fours liked by young and old.

PARTY PETIT FOURS
12 slices white bread
Mayonnaise
1 (4½-ounce) can deviled ham
1 tablespoon minced onion
10 thin cucumber slices
3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1½ tablespoons mayonnaise
6 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 (8-ounce) package cream cheese, softened
3 tablespoons sour cream
1 (3-ounce) package cream cheese
Red and green food coloring

Trim crusts from bread slices. To make petit fours spread four slices lightly with mayonnaise and a mixture of deviled ham and onion. Add thin cucumber slices and second bread slice. Spread with mixture of egg, mayonnaise, bacon and green pepper. Top with third bread slice. Chill. Cut each sandwich in quarters. Combine 8-ounce package cream cheese and sour cream. Spread over sides and tops of the sandwich quarters. Mix 1½ ounces of cream cheese with the red food coloring to make pink flowers and 1½ ounces of cream cheese with the green food coloring to make leaves for the top of the sandwiches. Makes 16 petit fours.

APPLE-PACED SANDWICHES
1 (4½-ounce) can corned beef spread
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ cup min. seed apple
8 slices whole wheat bread
Slices of apple, parsley to garnish

Mix together corned beef spread, cinnamon and minced apple. Spread half this mixture on four slices of bread. Cover with remaining slices of bread. Spread tops with remaining corned beef spread mixture. Trim off crusts. Cut diagonally into four triangles and decorate each with small triangles of apple and sprigs of parsley. Makes 16 sandwiches.

The next day he saw Jesus coming toward him, and said, "Behold the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world!"—John 1:29.

No revolution that has ever taken place in society can be compared to that which has been produced by the words of Jesus Christ.—Mark Hopkins, American educator.

Increase Seen In Home Meals

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Reports have it that by the end of this decade 70 per cent of our eating will be away from home.

But all experts don't agree. One of them is Paul Kovi, director of New York's Four Seasons restaurant.

"There is a growing trend in the country today toward home cooking. Not the same as before, but interesting and rather simple but appealing food. Look at the great increase in cookbooks published and cooking courses given—I'd say the increase is 20 per cent in the last 10 years," he says.

Kovi points to the 20 to 35 age group as most important. "So many travel all over the world today. They return and want to experiment themselves with some of the luxury restaurants appeal new dishes they ate else-very little to the young where. Not elaborate things. Either because they cannot but simple dishes. Many use afford them or because they ingredients far different from don't like all the elegance those used in the old stand and social discipline implied.

dard meat and potato diet. "Because their fathers they probably grew up on," went to a certain restaurant. "These young people still and was known by the maitre simply to eat, he says.

"Look at some of the places with indifferent food good it actually is," Kovi says. "Business was excellent. Not as good as four years ago, but better than most in the same group. The reasons for this, I think, are that many people didn't travel abroad this summer. Also our competitors took longer vacations than usual, and some of the most aggressive competition went out of business," he says.

fort Astoria and the Sherry Netherland before joining Restaurant Associates. He has been director of the Four Seasons for five years.

Kovi admits that customers of elegant restaurants are not among the young very often. "This year when most places were in financial trouble, his restaurant held its own, even prospered.

"Business was excellent. Not as good as four years ago, but better than most in the same group. The reasons for this, I think, are that many people didn't travel abroad this summer. Also our competitors took longer vacations than usual, and some of the most aggressive competition went out of business," he says.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Do-'em-Yourself Candy Treats

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Homemade candy bars filled with peanut butter cereal, raisins, marshmallows and chocolate make good time-out-from-play snacks. Serve with small glass of milk—just enough to cut hunger pangs, give energy but not spoil a child's mealtime appetite.

CHOCO-RAISIN CRUNCH BARS

4 cups crunchy, peanut butter cereal
1 cup raisins
½ cup light corn syrup
¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
Dash salt
3 cups miniature marshmallows
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 (6-oz. pkg.) (1 cup)

semisweet chocolate pieces

Place peanut butter cereal and raisins in greased large bowl. Mix syrup, sugar and salt in a medium-sized saucepan; bring to a full boil. Stir in marshmallows. Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla and chocolate pieces. Pour over cereal-raisin mixture, stirring until evenly coated. With greased hands, firmly press mixture into a greased

Barbecued Short Ribs With Yams

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Short ribs remain good buys and make a tasty family meal. Next time around try barbecued short ribs and serving them with yams.

BARBECUED SHORT RIBS WITH YAMS

Meat tenderizer
4 pounds short ribs of beef, cut in serving pieces
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 small onion, finely chopped
3 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon each: vinegar, salad oil
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons Worcestershire
Dash garlic powder
2 cans (16 ounces each) Louisiana yams, drained

Sprinkle meat tenderizer on all sides of short ribs, prick with fork and let stand 1 hour. Meanwhile, in small saucepan mix together tomato sauce, onion, sugar, water, vinegar, oil and seasonings. Cover and simmer 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Place ribs on grill or broiler rack. Cook 4 inches from source of heat 10 minutes; turn, brush with barbecue sauce and grill about 5 minutes. Skewer yams. Turn ribs again and arrange yam kebabs on grill. Brush both with sauce and cook 5 minutes, or until yams are hot and meat browned. Serve with remaining sauce. Makes 4 servings. ### Jamaican Curried Chicken

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Adventure some eaters who visit the Caribbean islands find a delight of native fish, seafood, vegetables and fruits. A small guest house-restaurant called Big Green House near Montego Bay, Jamaica, for example, offers only native dishes. These include plantain, ackee, curried goat and local fruit. The dishes are well-prepared and worth the harrowing five-mile car ride along a winding, unlighted, hilly road. Even the drive in daylight calls for a stomach-settling punch dispensed by the American owners upon arrival. Here's one Jamaican recipe to try at home.

JAMAICAN CURRIED CHICKEN

2 three-pound chickens
3 tablespoons curry
1 tablespoon onion salt
1 tablespoon garlic salt
1 tablespoon monosodium glutamate
¼ pound onion
¼ pound tomato
¼ pound scallions
1 tablespoon leaf thyme
1 tablespoon black pepper
1 large hot pepper

Joint chickens and clean. Slice onions, cut up scallions and tomatos. Red onion. Combine all ingredients with chickens and rub thoroughly. Allow to stand for about ½ hour. Place in large pot and pour about ½ quart water over, add 2 ounces butter or margarine, cover, cook over low heat for ¾ hour. Cool and bone chicken. Re-combine with gravy from cooking and add dash of hot pepper sauce if desired. Simmer. Serve with mango chutney, rice.

Every man also to whom God has given wealth and possessions, and power to enjoy them, and to accept his lot and find enjoyment in his toil—this is the gift of God.—Ecc. 5:19.

Work is not a curse, it is the prerogative of intelligence, the only means to manhood, and the measure of civilization. Savages do not work.—Calvin Coolidge.

Pioneers Aid the Handicapped in Texas

Even though there are 7,000 in North Texas, 13,000 in the state, and 350,000 in the U.S. and Canada, you may never have heard of a 60-year-old organization called the Telephone Pioneers of America.

That's okay. The kids at the Lilly B. Clayton School for the Blind in Fort Worth have; drug abuse victims at Terrell State Hospital's new Adolescent Center have; and so have thousands of others—aged, disabled, blind, deaf, lonely—in this part of Texas.

The Pioneers don't always do things that make the front page, or the nightly TV news. But the Pioneers—active and retired telephone employees with 21 or more years of service—are doing things just the same.

Pioneers of the Lone Star Chapter, which includes North Texas from the Wichita Falls region east to Texarkana, spent more than 10,000 hours last year working on community service projects.

One of those projects has meant an awful lot to blind children in the Dallas-Fort Worth area in recent months. Pioneers of Fort Worth's Cowtown Club sponsor a troop of Explorer Scouts, they've made more than a dozen softballs—very special softballs.

Packed inside the balls are sophisticated mechanisms which emit a steady beeping sound. The ball is sturdy enough to be thrown against a brick wall, or struck with a bat, and it just keeps on beeping. And that means blind kids can "see" the ball with their ears.

Teachers for the blind say the "audio ball" has had remarkable results. "Blind children become inhibited and reticent after repeated encounters with obstacles," one said. "They learn that movement—a movement—can hurt. The audio ball has given them the incentive to move freely and self-confidently."

Since the invention of the audio ball, by a group of Pioneers in Colorado, blind youngsters all over the country have learned to roll, throw, chase, catch and even hit the beeping ball.

In Dallas, a group of telephone men, sponsored by the Pioneer's Downtown Club, have been giving of their spare time to put their technical skills to work for the exceptional children at Dallas Academy. The Pioneers, and other telephone employees, maintain the electric and electronic equipment at the non-profit institution.

Members of the Dallas Life Member Club, which is comprised entirely of retirees, maintain and repair the record players used by the blind in the Library of Congress "Talking Book" program.

The Wichita Valley Club in Wichita Falls has given a demonstration on telephone switchboard to the Wichita State Hospital. And members of the club have trained patients and staff members how to operate the board. The club also buys supplies each month for patients' craft courses.

This year at Christmas time, just as in many past holiday seasons, U.S. servicemen overseas will get gift bags from the Pioneers. Several of the 28 clubs in the Lone Star Chapter undertake the gift bags as a project each year.

Last year, each of the clubs in the Chapter pitched in to help raise money to decorate and equip the new Adolescent Center at Terrell State Hospital. The Pioneer contribution was enough to buy two kitchenette units, stereo gear, records, and then some.

There are literally hundreds of other projects—all designed to help people. They're not very dramatic projects, mostly just work that might not get done if the Pioneers didn't do it.

The Pioneers were founded back in 1911 by a group of men who had been in the telephone industry since its very beginning. The association flourished as a social organization until 1958, when a new theme—and a new concept of Pioneering—was adopted. That theme was "United to Serve Others", and the Pioneers' involvement in community service had begun.

The Pioneers celebrate their 60th anniversary October 28, and Gov. Preston Smith has proclaimed that week as Pioneer Recognition Week in Texas in honor of the occasion.

Mrs. Sarah Hall, president of the Redbud Club in Corsicana says she thinks the Pioneers' community service activities are exemplary of the American tradition of voluntarism.

"Americans have always been willing to pitch in when help is needed," she said. "And, despite what you may hear, I don't think most citizens are apathetic about their communities. To me, the Pioneer organization here in Corsicana and across the nation proves that."

"We're not dramatic or flamboyant. But we're proud that we're able to get things done."

Senior Citizens Center Urged For Corsicana

Mrs. Paye Varnell, a Red Cross executive, spoke to members of the Texas School Food Service Association on the need for a Senior Citizens Center in the city.

Mrs. Varnell outlined hopes of such a center, with volunteers and/or buses bringing senior citizens to the center for a few hours of social activity. The center, she said, could consist of a reading room, a hobby room, game room and visiting room.

Percy Varnell followed, giving the group a demonstration of artificial respiration and emergency aid to accident victims.

He suggested that at least one member of a school cafeteria should have a first aid certificate.

The group is studying the prospects of a book scholarship, for a deserving student at Navarro Junior College.

The next meeting is set for Dec. 7.

Court Assesses Traffic Fines

Fines totalling $225 were assessed against a 20-year-old Navarro County man Monday in Corsicana city court, and a Corsicana man was fined $80 on three charges.

Stephen M. Watkins, Rt. 1, Barry, who was arrested early Saturday by Officers Charles Jones and Frank Parham after a high speed chase, which Chief Don Massey said began at W. 7th Ave. and S. 15th St., and ended on W. Hwy 22 outside the city limits, was fined on eight charges. He was fined $50 each on three separate speeding charges, one of 90 in a 30, another of 110 in a 30, and another of 110 in a 65 miles zone west of the hospital entrance road. Watkins was fined $15 each on five other charges including two stop violations, one red light violation, driving on the wrong side of the road and failure to yield to a pursuing police car.

Fined $60 was Ronnie Bonner, 1704 W. 11th Ave., who was assessed fines of $25 for driving without a valid operator's license, $20 for disorderly conduct with a motor vehicle and $15 for a loud muffler.

Both were released, Chief Massey said, after they made satisfactory arrangements to pay off the fines.

Wortham Homecoming Queen Crowned

WORTHAM—Mrs. John Robert Jones of Wortham was crowned the 1971 Wortham Homecoming Queen here last weekend.

Mrs. Jones, the former Emily Ann Jones, reigned over the weekend's festivities which were marred a bit Friday night when the Bulldogs went down to defeat 19-0 at the hands of the Dawson Bulldogs.

Saturday morning's activities opened with a coffee for the queen and her court at the Strange Community Building, followed at 2 p.m. by the Homecoming assembly in the school auditorium. Jim Reese of Mexia, the president of the ex-students association, presided over the program, which included a roll call of former students and teachers.

Dinner was served following the reunion and the evening came to a close with the annual Homecoming dance.

City Engineer Optimist Speaker

The Optimist Club of Corsicana will meet at 7 p.m. tonight at the Holiday Inn and hear Robert L. "Bob" Scott, city engineer, speak on traffic lights in this city.

A spokesman for the Optimists said the speaker would be available for club members to ask questions about the synchronization of the traffic lights in Corsicana.

Keg of Nails Angers Drivers

Local Texas Highway Patrolmen reported there were "a lot of mad truckdrivers" stopped at gasoline service stations along IH 45 late Wednesday with flat tires on their vehicles.

According to Ray Eubanks, maintenance foreman with the Texas Highway Department in Ellis County, the police in that county heard complaints from at least 32 persons who said their vehicles had flat tires due to nails on the interstate highway.

Eubanks said two boxes of roofing nails were found along the southbound lane of IH 45 about one mile north of the intersection with State Hwy. 34.

One DPS officer said a service station operator in the area told him he had fixed 158 flat tires Wednesday.

Eubanks said a street sweeper and four department employees were sent to clean up the nails. No accidents were reported as result of the flat tires.

Vocational Education Topic for Kiwanians

Paul Slaughter, vocational counselor at Corsicana High School, discussed the value of vocational guidance and development for members of the Corsicana Kiwanis Club at the service organization's Monday luncheon meeting held in Martin Hall of First United Methodist Church.

Grover Pearson led members in repeating the pledge to the flag, and Albert Sanders gave the invocation. The speaker was introduced by Emmett McCulley, director of the vocational department at CHS.

Slaughter emphasized the importance of giving students the salable skills by stating that only one out of every 100 students who enter first grade will be graduated from college. He noted that the first step in rehabilitation in correctional institutions is to give vocational guidance to provide inmates with a useful trade.

The speaker stated that many good students are in vocational training now and said that such programs are not for the slow learner.

He described the counselor's function as one of assisting students in planning and developing and indicated that he must arrange schedules for 100 to 150 students. He is responsible for keeping the students informed and placing them on jobs. It is also the counselor's responsibility to keep up with students for five years after graduation, to see if they have stayed with the vocation for which they were trained.

Of the students involved in vocational courses in Corsicana High School, Slaughter said 310 are in homemaking, 164 in vocational agriculture, 27 in Industrial Cooperative Training, 45 in Distributive Education and 21 Vocational Office Education. Those involved in other areas of vocational training and 102 vocational students in the middle schools, make a total of 953 students in vocational education programs in the Corsicana Public Schools.

Slaughter said that the programs now involve one-fourth of the students in high school and middle schools, and will be extended into the elementary schools in the future. Vocational educators are anxious to rid the program of its past stigma to parents and students. The speaker stressed the fact that students interested in vocational education are not slow learners or under-achievers in academic areas.

The counselor distributed to the Kiwanians copies of "Paycheck Education", a report on technical-vocational education in Texas.

Slaughter called attention to definitions of "paycheck education" as "Learning to help people — Mastering the time-honored skills which have built civilizations, including ours ... studying both the 'why' and the 'how' of modern technology ... Learning to work with people, to sell them more of the products which an abundant economy can provide."

He closed with the following quotation from the publication's editorial: "But the alternative to college is not failure. U. S. Labor Department statistics indicate that in 1980 only one-fifth of the jobs in the nation will demand four or more years of college. Without the other four out of five Americans, not a home will be

Hicks, Miss Conley Get 4-H Gold Star Awards

By SAM PENDERGRAST
Editor of The Sun

Some 300 4-H Club members, parents, friends and supporters wrapped themselves around plates of Bonner barbecue Tuesday night at Collins MS cafeteria and settled back to hear County Judge Kenneth Douglas and State Rep. Jack Hawkins name the outstanding 4-H Club members of the year.

Top awards went to Sidney Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hicks, Sr., and Sadie Conley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Conley, both of Corsicana. Young Hicks and Miss Conley were awarded the coveted "Gold Star" Awards as outstanding 4-H members in the county.

And David Lee, manager of Beall's Department Store here, received the top adult award, the "Friend of 4-H" plaque.

Hicks and Miss Conley were chosen by a committee of county businessmen and individuals on the basis of their performance in 4-H projects and activities, leadership and personal development.

Sidney is 16 years old, an eight-year veteran in the Corsicana Community 4-H Club, who has been active in such projects as photography, dog care, gardening, junior leadership, and public speaking. He has won six blue ribbons for method demonstrations and three county medals for gardening.

He was also the Danforth Award winner for leadership in 1969 and has attended the district contest for six years and the district camp one year. He participated in the State 4-H Round-up two years, served as County Council treasurer for two years and was boy vice-chairman one year. He is teen leader and public relations officer of his local club.

Miss Conley, also 16, has been a member of the Corsicana Community 4-H Club six years, with major demonstrations in foods and nutrition (five years), horticulture (three years), public speaking (two years), clothing

(two years), and junior leadership.

She has been president, treasurer, secretary, council delegate, song leader and historian of the local club and has served as a junior leader for younger members in clothing, carried a method demonstration to the district meeting for six years in vegetable preparation and use, safety, public speaking and natural resources.

Sadie represented Navarro County at the district food show in 1969 and has won county awards in achievement, horticulture, clothing, foods, citizenship, and dressmaking and was the Danforth leadership award winner for 1970.

The "Gold Star" awards were presented by Associate County Agent Mrs. Tressie Langston and Rep. Hawkins, and Victor Cooper, local agent for National Farm Insurance, presented wristwatches to Sidney and Miss Conley.

4-H'er Rebecca Watkins made the award to "Friend of 4-H" Lee, who responded with surprise and delight, noting "I spent 16 years on a 32-acre tomato farm, and I didn't achieve a thing...so it is a thrill to me to see young people achieving so much." He said he is proud to see young people who take pride in personal achievement.

Albert Sanders served as master of ceremonies for the event, Miss Sheryl Porter of the Pelham 4-H Club gave the invocation, Jeff Bonner of the Corsicana 4-H Club led the Pledge of Allegiance, Pam Dent of Corsicana Community 4-H led in recitation of the motto and pledge, Gerald Atkisson of Navarro County Electric Co-op welcomed the guests in behalf of his company and First National Bank, co-sponsors, and Mack Boyd of the M. E. N. 4-H Club gave the closing 4-H prayer.

County Agent Gene Sears welcomed a host of special guests including Gerald York and Hoyt Moore of First National Bank, local educators, county commissioners, pioneer 4-H leaders Mr. and Mrs. A. R. (Pop) Cook, and Extension Service Staff member Doug Presley and his wife, Ed Fugger, Mrs. Langston and her husband, and Miss Patricia Griggs.

Additional awards in specialty areas were presented by Judge Douglas assisted by Miss Griggs and Presley.

Recipients included Adrian Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Johnson of Pelham, beef; Ralph Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Porter of Pelham, safety; Valerie Reese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ozell Reese of Corsicana, leadership; Jacklyn Copeland, daughter of Mrs. Annie Gunnell of Kerens, home economics; and Deborah Cephus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cephus of Corsicana, home economics;

NJC Wives Hold 'Show and Tell'

The Navarro Junior College Faculty Wives Club had a participation program as a feature of their October meeting held Monday evening in the home of Mrs. R. A. Armistead at 915 North 26th Street.

In the "Show and Tell" program, each member was allotted two or three minutes in which to show something of interest and tell the others about it.

The invitation netted such shared projects as a handmade dress, a patchwork rug, a child's growth chart, three dimensional pictures, large stuffed animals, decoupage, crocheted rings and beads, a decorative glass lamp shade, a papier mache pumpkins, Christmas decorations and an afghan.

One member displayed a 100-year-old quilt and another a crocheted bedspread of the same age, while another brought along her grandfather's application for American citizenship. Collectors' items included a Mexican hand-carved Nativity scene. An amateur photographer showed some of her photographs of unusual objects, and another member expressed her interest in the recently opened Child Development Center.

Mrs. Joe Pat Donaldson, president of the club for 1971-72, presided for a brief business session during which Mrs. Bill Hay, secretary-treasurer, read minutes of the previous meeting.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Armistead, Mrs. Arnold Armstrong and Mrs. Grady Barnes. Those present included Mmes. Jack Butler, James Cross, Leemon Cuttrel, Pat Cuvellio, Hollis Driskell, Carl Garner, David Henry, Ben Jones, Odie Kindel, Thomas Parris, Dyane Penny, Guy Pollock, Roy Ragsdale, Larry Reed, Roy Reese, Gaston Gooch, Nelson Ross, Bill Rushing, Herschel Stephens and William Waiton, as well as those previously mentioned.

Meetings are held on the 4th Monday evening of each month, and all wives of NJC faculty members are invited to attend.

Before Republican Women in Navarro County

GOP Senator Grover Lambasts Texas Democrats in General

By KIT BAUMAN
Staff Writer

No one can lambast the Democrats quite as convincingly as a Republican, and that is why—after a several-months-long diet of hearing campaigning Democrats knock other campaigning Democrats—the visit to Corsicana Wednesday morning by Houston's Sen. Henry C. (Hank) Grover was like a breath of fresh hot air.

An announced hopeful for the Texas Republican Party's gubernatorial nomination next year, Grover blasted Texas Democrats in general and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes in particular before some 15 persons during a meeting of the Republican Women of Navarro County at the home of Mrs. William B. Robinson.

Texas' Democratic Party is as bankrupt of leadership as the national party, Grover told the group, and that leaves the door open for the election of a Republican governor in 1972.

"If we don't run a strong candidate at a time when we've got a chance to elect him, I think we'll be the laughing-stock of Texas," he said, "because the voters know we've got an excellent chance. If we don't do our best, they'll say we sold out, that we forfeited the game."

Paul Eggers of Wichita Falls, the Republican's gubernatorial candidate in 1969, proved the party can elect a governor, Grover told the group. A Republican, though admittedly handicapped, "can get elected in Texas next year if he knows what he's talking about."

As a result of the Texas stock scandal involving many of the state's top Democrats, "voters are thoroughly fed up and want a clean sweep, they want to throw the rascals out," he said. "The Democratic primary itself is going to be a knock-down, drag-out for the governor's nomination and whoever gets it isn't going to be any improvement."

Grover named Barnes, Uvalde rancher Dolph Briscoe and Gov. Preston Smith as the three men he foresees competing for the Democrat's gubernatorial nomination. Former U.S. Senator Ralph Yarborough is "looking more and more as if he'll run for the Senate again," he said, leaving Briscoe as the dark horse in the state race.

Smith's entry into the primary should really surprise no one, Grover added.

"You can count on him to do the unpredictable," he said.

Asked if Barnes doesn't indeed hold the inside track for the nomination, Grover replied that he "wouldn't concede it to him."

"If Ben gets it," he continued, "that's fine with me. He's got lots of liabilities," he added to nods of agreement from the audience. Barnes "has to" move more and more to Texas liberals for support, Grover said, "if he hopes to beat me." As an example, he pointed out Republican John Tower's election eleven years ago to the U.S. Senate over the Democrat's Waggoner Carr as hinging upon the fact that liberals, traditionally Democratic voters in the state, would not turn out to vote for Carr.

Barnes' election as governor would mean both personal and corporate income taxes, said Grover, something that the state is being "backed into already...by Barnes and the Austin establishment."

A corporate income tax, in particular, would be detrimental to the state, Grover added, coming at a time when Texas is attracting new industry.

Grover told the group that his campaign for the nomination is being based on needed reforms in welfare and education. The school busing of children to achieve racial balance in the schools—"the most deplorable thing possible," he called it—is another issue he is taking to the voters.

Should he receive his party's nomination, Grover said he doesn't anticipate much help from the national organization in his race. Funds from the national Republican Party will obviously be devoted to reelecting President Nixon, he said, and most of the state party's funds will be going to Sen. Tower in his race.

"The third priority in Texas is election of a Republican governor," he stated. "I'm no newcomer," he added, "and I know how to run a campaign. I run for office to win."

Grover, 44, is a native Texan, a fact he points to with obvious pride. A former teacher in the Houston school system, he was elected to the state House of Representatives as a conservative Democrat in 1960 ("Some 200 students from my high school turned out to their own free will to help me in that race," he pointed out), 1962 and 1964. He joined the Republican Party in 1966 against the council of John Connally, he says and ran successfully for the state Senate in 1966, polling 66.7 per cent of the vote. He was reelected in 1968 with over 73 per cent of the vote. He is married and the father of six children.

At Long Last

Rotarians Receive Memory Training

The Rotary Club Wednesday was treated to a demonstration of memory training by Harvey Drake of Oklahoma City as an introduction to a course he will present at Navarro Junior College.

Lary Reed, technical arts dean at NJC, who presented the program, announced that Drake will conduct his course over four successive Wednesday nights from 7 to 10 p.m. beginning Nov. 3 at a tuition fee of $15.

The former insurance executive who now spends full time training others who enroll in his courses to train themselves to remember fascinated the club by demonstrating his ability to recall and repeat in backwards sequence half a deck of shuffled cards called out at random by one person, and listed in no particular order on a blackboard by another. Prior to repeating the cards that had been listed, he named each card by its suit that had not be listed comprising the other half of the deck.

Walter Erwin, membership chairman, inducted into the club as a new member Desley Isernhagen of Liberty Mutual Insurance Co.

Club members were advised by Lee Pennington, chairman, the spaghetti supper held last Friday night netted aprofit of $511.67 with proceeds going to the YMCA. It was pronounced "very successful" with 450 plates served and total ticket sales of $825. Pennington and President Gene Wood voiced appreciation to individual members of Rotary who worked in and helped make the benefit supper a successful undertaking.

President Wood presented Rotary's Four-Way Test plaque to October Student Rotarian Kelly Martin from Corsicana High School, and welcomed as other luncheon guests Mrs. Anita Christi, Miss Mary Yielding and Ed Erwin.

Youth Jailed On Drug Charge

A 20-year-old Corsicana youth is in Navarro County Jail pending bond on a charge of possession of narcotics filed Thursday with Peace Justice W.H. Tipton. The charge is being transcribe to 13th District Court.

Charles Wheat of 630 W. 6th Ave. was placed in county jail Wednesday. Bonds pending include a $750 county and two $200 bonds with the City of Corsicana.

said Mr. and Mrs. Doyle West had graciously offered the hospitality of their home to Miss Pantasuporn for an interim of several days until she can return to her college dormitory.

Shortly after she was injured, the college and student body started a "Meewan Fund" to help defray her hospital and medical expenses with the public invited to make gifts toward the fund.

The fund had reached $492 this weekend, but Dr. Jones said considerably more is needed as her hospital bill "is going to be about $1,200."

Most of the donations to the fund thus far have come from Corsicana citizens in response to the appeal.

Dr. Jones said Phi Theta Kappa has scheduled a dance Tuesday night in the Student Union Building as a benefit for the Meewan Fund; foreign students on campus now are making plans to conduct a "Foreign Students Night of Entertainment" as another benefit project and the Student Senate is discussing ways it can raise money toward Miss Pantasuporn's hospital expenses.

Montfort Exes Hold Reunion

Fifty-five ex-students and their families held their sixth annual reunion at Chatfield-Tupelo Community Center Saturday Oct. 16 from 1 to 6 p.m. Exes who came the farthest distance were Mrs. Emil Squellati (Mary Katherine Mayo), her husband and Jackie Herring all of Albuquerque, N.M., who traveled 700 miles to attend the gathering. Texas points represented were Deweyville, Houston, Dallas, Corpus Christi, Midland, Richardson, Chatfield, Kaufman, Pasadena, Mexia, Spring, Mabank, Wichita Falls, Kerens, Bazette, Corsicana, Powell and Roane.

Greetings and visiting continued until 4:30 p.m. when the business meeting featuring Lonnie Burgett of Spring as speaker. His topic was "Love and Fellowship" which he termed an outstanding trait of the annual reunions. One former resident of Montfort, Narben H. Sheets of Corsicana, who died in March, was remembered with a moment of silent prayer, followed by a prayer for his family by Burgett.

This brings to a total eleven of exes that have died since the beginning of the reunions in 1966. An attendance committee with a goal to encourage new members to attend the Saturday meet included Willie Ledbetter and Lera Jones of Dallas; Sidney and Aline Laningham of Corpus Christi; Lonnie and Ruby Burgett of Spring; Mrs. Edna Gorman of Roane; Mrs. Floy Kirby of Chatfield. Eleven who responded and were present for the first time included Mr. and Mrs. (Johnnie Conner) John Davenport, Houston; Jake Reagan of Carlsbad; Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Blissette, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Foy Blissette of Mabank; Mrs. Edna Gaines of Corsicana; Miss Herring, Mr. and Mrs. Squellati, the latter a former student and also one of the four ex-teachers of Montfort at the Saturday reunion. She has acquired her doctorate in her adopted state, has taught at Ft. Lewis College and is Director of Spical Education in the city of her residence.

Another outstanding teacher at the social event was Mrs. Frances McClanahan with the record for the longest tenure of the staff of teachers at Montfort and who currently teaches kindergarten and first grade in her private school at Richardson. Mrs. Lucy Hodge of Chatfield holds an enviable record of 42 years in the profession, one at Montfort, nineteen at Rice and 23 at Chatfield.

Mrs. Squellati narrated the Indian legend of the Ojo de Dios (Eye of God) and exhibited samples she had made of the Ojoes, two of which were given as prizes to winners with the lucky numbers. Mrs. Ricky Turner of Dallas won the largest Ojo de Dios and the Sidney Laninghams won the smaller one. Tiny Ojoes sold at 25 cents each and added nine dollars seventy-five cents to the club money.

Eddie Frank Conner of Mikland gave the benediction and the group enjoyed a picnic supper in the dining area of the community center.

All exes are urged to attend the 7th annual reunion Saturday, Oct. 21, 1972 at the same location.

The slate of officers for the coming year include the new chairman, Mrs. Homer Marshall, and officials who remain in their same capacity are Lonnie Burgett moderator; Mrs. B.G. Gorman secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Melvin Gorman, reporter, and the planning committee, composed of Mmes. Lonnie Burgett, Lera Jones, Verlee Bradford, H. Morris Kirby, B.G. Gorman, Vernon Frazier, Melvin Gorman and Homer Marshall.

Williams Convicted On Burglary Charge

Bobby Ray Williams, 20, of 1100 E. 1st was convicted on a burglary charge Thursday morning before a jury in 13th District Court.

District Judge James Sewell presided over the proceedings in which Williams pleaded guilty before the jury. The jurors sentenced the man to two years probated sentence with instructions to make restitution to W.L. Bains Jr. in the amount of $100.

Another burglary case, State of Texas vs. Robert Randle, which was to have been considered by a jury Wednesday afternoon, was passed and the jury dismissed. One of the jurors claimed disqualification, making it necessary for a new jury to be selected for the case at a later date.

Thursday afternoon a jury of 12 persons heard a case styled Robert E. Minatra vs. Carolyn Ann Renfro, involving custody of children. Late Thursday afternoon the jury granted custody of the three children to their father.

Man Injured In Mishap

Chester Tumlinson, 2202 W. 11th Ave., was treated in emergency at Memorial Hospital for scalp lacerations Monday at 10:30 a.m. following a one-car mishap near Roane.

The trouble at the Longkesh camp, 12 miles from Belfast, started with a protest against living conditions by about 250 inmates who seized four guards as hostages.

Masses of prisoners ran toward the wire wall surrounding the camp, but troops from a nearby camp moved in to drive them back. The battle lasted two hours.
